CHINESE EXCLUSION.

The Bill Passed the House Yesterday.

IT IS A VERY STRONG ARTICE

Springer Submits His Speech on Free Wool—Morgan's Talk For Silver.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The house passed the Chinese exclusion bill by yeas 179, nays 42.

The bill absolutely prohibits any Chinese, whether or not a subject of China, excepting diplomatic and consular officers and servants, from entering the United States, and Chinese who may hereafter leave the United States are prohibited from returning to the country.

It makes liable to arrest Chinese merchan's entering the United States or found unlawfully therein, and provides for their punishment by imprisonment not exceeding five years and subsequent removal to the country whence they came, provided that when they come by way of contiguous foreign territory they be returned to China.

The proviso allows the secretary to permit Chinese in transit to visit the United States under such rules as he may prescribe. This last clause repeals all acts and treaties inconsistent with this.

FREE WOOL.

Lively Discussion on This Important Industry.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—At 3 p.m. the house went into a committee of the whole on the free wool bill, when Springer appeared for the first time in several weeks to make the closing argument on the bill. He was received with a burst of hearty applause, and his desk was decked with flowers. Springer was not strong enough to speak, and his speech was read by Bryan. It said the committee on ways and means asked the bureau of statistics to furnish a statement showing the prices of wool of like quality in the United states and Europe during the existence of a wool tariff from 1886 to this time. The bureau referred the matter to S. N. D. North, secretary National Association of Wool manufacturers, and special agents of the census office in charge of wool statistics. That statement furnished made a comparison between Ohio medium washed wool and port prices of Australian fleece, which are considered of substantially the same quality. These prices, when reduced to a gold basis, show that the prices at these ports in London and Boston very little from year to year to 1890, except during the unusual years of 1871 and 1872, in which prices were unusually affected by speculation. Leaving these out of account it appears that for the remaining twenty-three years the average price of Port Phillip fleece was ½ cent per pound more than Ohio medium washed.

In Boston when Port Phillip's fleece was 20 cents per pound and if protection protects would make the price of Ohio wool 20 per cent greater. The fact that it is really lower in price than the Australian shows the American wool growers do not receive any increase in price by reason of the tariff. The reason for this is that American wool manufacturers don't manufacture from American wool exclusively, but mix with foreign wool. Cotton shoddy and other adulterations, and wool under operation of the tariff cannot be exported. American wool growers are confined to a restricted market under conditions that manufacturers of foreign and domestic wools are not in competition, hence they must be used together, complementing each other for the manufacture of woolen goods acceptable to this market. With free wool the price of these goods would be reduced to the extent of the tariff on foreign wools. In their manufacture this decrease in price would largely increase the manufacture and sales on such goods and so increase the demand for American wools at the manufactory; in other words, cheapening foreign wool by the removal of the tariff benefits not only the wool grower and woolen manufacturers, but is of advantage to the general public who are the consumers. In conclusion Springer called attention to the fact that placing raw sugar on the free list in 1890 caused an increased consumption of sugar to the amount of nearly 24 per cent in 1891, and said the passage of the present bill would have a similar effect in increasing the consumption of woolen goods and cause the starting up of all establishments idle during 1890, and would give employment to $74,000,000 of capital, causing an increase in the use of materials worth $48,000,000, a demand for 61,030,000 pounds of domestic and 27,000,000 pounds more of foreign wool, give employment to 52,000 hands with wages of $18,000,000. With increased prices wool and labor will increase.

SILVER TINKLINGS.

Morgan Makes a Speech for the White Metal.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—After consideration of several matters Morgan, in calling up his resolution, said he knew a subject which struck the attention of senators in an alarming way, because the people of the United States are very earnest in desiring to have some relief from the existing financial condition and embarrassment. He knew the behest of party stood in the way of a free expression of opinion from party men. Morgan went on to criticise the silver act of 1890. In the further course of his argument he remarked incidentally that one of the consequences of the defeat of free silver legislation would be the nomination of Cleveland. At 2 o'clock unfinished business was laid before the senate, but Morgan was allowed to go on with his speech. He referred to Cleveland's having come to the presidency a [illegible]rt of Wall street congestive chill fell [illegible] the bill as "commencing to [illegible]trophey evil and threatening the whole weight of this administration against silver. He brought up again the old charge that Sherman was responsible for the demonetization of silver in 1873. If, said Morgan, the senators could forget Cleveland and Hill and other good men aspiring to the presidency of the United States, and lock hands on the silver question and say they would do all that wisdom and a devoted love of country suggested, there would be no more trouble about the silver question.

Sherman said, to ascertain if the senate wanted to enter on a silver debate, he proposed to move to lay the resolutions on the table.

Allison asked if the resolutions had not gone to the calendar at 2 o'clock and acquiesced.

Sherman then remarked that they could not be taken up without a motion.

Teller said the senator from Ohio might as well meet the question now as any time, because the friends of silver were bound to debate it. He remarked that Sherman seemed anxious to stifle the debate.

This charge Sherman emphatically denied. He went on to defend his act and said it would, with a proper amendment, be made the fulcrum on which rested the whole financial system of the country. He argued against free coinage, and in closing said he not only was willing to discuss the question, but desired to have it discussed.

The matter then went over, with Morgan's resolution on the calendar under the rules.

The Sweater System.

CHICAGO, April 4.—The congressional committee investigating the Sweater system in large cities, began work here today. They visited a number of places where cigars are given out to be made in tenement houses, and cloaks to be made by women and children in miserable hovels. They visited a number of manufacturers under this system who will be called and startling testimony is expected.

One Kind of Justice.

DUBLIN, April 4.—Mrs. Montague, charged with cruelly treating her children and causing the death of one of them by tying her up by the hands in such a way that she strangled to death, was found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to imprisonment for one year at hard labor.

What He Deserved.

VISALIA, April 4.—William Emerson, alias Ruff, alias Johnson, pleaded guilty in the superior court today to forgery, and was sentenced to two years in states prison.

FRESNO MAY GET IT.

DELEGATES PULLING FOR THE STATE CONVENTION

Feel Confident That the Democrats Will Visit Us in Full Force.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Fresno wants the Democratic state convention bad, and will very likely get it. There is a delegation of fifty here from that city, buttonholing members of the state central committee, and they had secured enough promises last night to warrant them in telegraphing home that the convention will be held there.

They urge that Fresno has never had a convention, though that section of the state has always been Democratic, and that country had never been represented on the state ticket.

The State Central committee will have a good deal of business to transact today, and it will not take long to decide where the convention will be held.

The date for holding it will be about May 23d.

Trouble Among Boomers.

KINGFISHER, Ok., April 4.—The excitement over the opening of the Cheyenne and Arapahoe reservation is increasing in intensity hourly. A line of boomers have been formed at the land office for several days ready to make a filing. The Fifth cavalry is deployed along the border to arrest trespassers. Ex-soldiers are here in force to make declaratory statements. There is a bitter feeling against these and there are threats of a riot in case the agents file a large number of them. The land will be opened for settlement on April 15th.

The New Midland.

VISALIA, April 4.—Charles Erlz and Virgil Bogue were in the city yesterday in the interest of the California Midland railroad. They took a view of the surrounding country, and said they would have two corps of engineers in the field in ten days, one from Stockton, and the other from Bakersfield.

A Murderous Wretch.

WATSONVILLE, April 4.—J. H. Richardson was arrested and brought here today by two constables and charged with assault with intent to kill. The intended victim is M. McMahon, who was badly, and it is supposed fatally, cut about the head.

Properly In It.

SANTA ROSA, April 4.—The convention, in response to a call of the state central committee, assembled here today to form a Peoples' party. A permanent organization was effected, a county central committee and delegates to the state convention were elected.

Not Her Kind of Corn.

CHICAGO, April 4.—The application for divorce by Margarett Mather the actress, against her husband, Mucoisian Emil Habercorn, on the grounds of desertion, was made public today.

POLITICIANS BELATED.

They Thought They Had Been Switched Off to Sacramento.

A collection of choice spirits representing the cadetship of the Democracy of this city and county bought tickets last Sunday evening for San Francisco, to meet the Democratic state central committee and urge upon them the advantages to accrue from holding the Democratic state convention in Fresno.

Among the party were Fahey, Alford and Cole of the Triangle, Justice of the Peace Dante R. Prince, A. B. Butler, Harry Coble and City Attorney Terry. Mr. Goucher remained behind to watch the party's interest in the meantime.

As the train was not due until 3.35 in the morning the party took berths in the Pullman sleeper and turned into their bunks about 3 a.m. It happened, however, that the train to which the sleeper was attached was detained by a landslide in the Tehachapi mountains and did not arrive until 2.20 yesterday afternoon.

Harry Doble, who had gone to bed sober with the crowd, awoke about 9 o'clock and was surprised to find that the car had stopped. He missed the rumbling and roaring of the train that had made him sleep so sound during the night.

"Are we at Lathrop?" he asked of Judge Prince, who was snoring in a slightly foreign trombone in the adjoining berth. "We ought to be in Oakland by this time. There's something wrong, sure. Hallo! there's Chinatown! I'll be blowed if they haven't switched us off to Sacramento."

He was not long in awakening the other sleepers. A second glance out of the window convinced them that they were still in Fresno, and had the advantage of the railroad monopoly to the extent of a night's lodging.

GRIFFITH'S SENSATION

John R. Confesses to the Pixley Train Robbery.

TIRED OF A SEA DOG'S LIFE

Belief That the Story is a Weird Invention of a Mind Gone Clean Daft.

The following dispatch received at San Francisco on the arrival of the bark Discovery has created considerable stir:

HONOLULU, March 16.—John R. Griffith, a sailor on the whaling ship Northern Light, which left here today for a cruise in the North Pacific ocean, addressed a letter, under date of March 12th, to United States Consul Stevens in which he confesses having perpetrated, in company with two companions, the daring train robbery which took place near Pixley, Cal., February 22, 1889. Three men boarded the cars at that point, and after the train had left the station they climbed over the baggage car into the cab of the engine. They ordered the engineer to stop the train, but he did not obey quickly, and as a consequence lost his life.

A passenger who emerged from a coach after the train came to a standstill was also shot and killed. The robbers then went through the mail and express cars, taking everything they could lay their hands on and escaped. Griffith's letter in full is as follows: "Ship Northern Light, March 12, 1892.—To the Right Hon. American Consul, Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands—Dear Sir: "I wish to give myself up in your hands as a fugitive from justice, to be held a prisoner until the state authorities of California and the postal authorities of the United States are notified and can act in the matter. About 8 p.m. on February 22, 1889, the San Francisco and Los Angeles local express train was stopped by three highwaymen near the town of Pixley, in Fresno county, California, and Wells, Fargo & Co's car forced and robbed of $7000 in gold. The mail pouches were rifled and several registered letters and other papers and packages of minor value secured.

"Two men were killed in the melee, the fireman of the train and a passenger from the town of Modesto, Cal. There is a large standing reward for the apprehension of the parties who perpetrated this crime. The state offers a reward of $3000 and Wells, Fargo & Co. $2500, besides two or three smaller rewards by private parties. Myself and two other young men are the perpetrators, and were the sole actors in this crime. The leader in this is a well to do insurance agent, doing business in Fresno, Cal., at the present time. Myself and the other fellow have been at sea together most of the time since then. I have lived in constant fear since then. Every moment of my life I have been in great terror, and now I believe the facts should be made public before my ship reaches San Francisco, hence this statement.

"The other fellow shipped on the John P. West, with the intention of running away on some of the islands near the equator, and when he found out that the ship would not put in at any of the islands, I have now every reason to believe that he is the man who set her on fire. I will turn state's evidence and make a clean breast of the whole thing. As soon as I see you I will make a written statement of all the facts and swear to it before a notary. I am turning myself over to you because I can't stand this wretched, fearful existence any longer, and hope to get off lighter by acting thus. If you take me in charge, do it quickly, as my ship will leave here at once. This must be ended at once and for good, even if it ends in self-destruction. My father is a wealthy business man of Fresno, Cal. I am 26 years of age, light complected and weigh 140 pounds. Respectfully,

JOHN R. GRIFFITH.

"March 12th, 9 a.m., 1892.—This is a deliberate step I am taking, sir, after long deliberation, and I stand ready to make a full and thorough statement and swear to same before a notary. It is my only chance of salvation, as I left proofs in Fresno that will surely be found out before it gets to San Francisco. I am perfectly willing to await as a prisoner pending a requisition. Very respectfully,

JOHN R. GRIFFITH,
"Ship Northern Light."

Griffith's letter became public before reaching the American consul, and Griffith was at once interviewed. He was, however, non-communicative. Griffith was on the Santa Cruz with Captain Green in 1890, shipping from San Francisco. He is reported to have embezzled money from that vessel. At that time he was known as belonging to Fresno, Cal. It is stated on good authority that a former cook of the whaler John P. West, which was burned here last month, is willing to testify that the West was set on fire. The parties who are suspected are here on the islands, and it is stated that McKinnon & Co., owners of the West, have been informed of this and have sent a detective here. The outcome of Griffith's letter is awaited with interest, and it is expected the steamer Australia, which leaves here subsequent to the sailing of the bark Discovery, which carries his letter, may convey further particulars. Griffith left here on the Northern Light today.

Griffith is well known in this city where he resided for ten years prior to his going away on the salt, salt sea. Although his brothers, who are well known and reputable business men of this city, did all in their power to make him an industrious and useful member of society, his craving for strong drink had too firm a hold on him to be successfully resisted. When under the influence of intoxicating liquor he seemed to lose all control of himself and acted like one insane.

On account of his penchant for liquor he often got into trouble and brought undeserved disgrace upon the family name. On one occasion he wrote a communication to THE REPUBLICAN alleging that certain deputy sheriffs had murdered a man. There was not the slightest foundation for the charge, and it was ascertained that Griffith wrote the sensational letter while under the influence of the delirium attending a debauch.

Nobody in Fresno believes that his confession is genuine, and his relatives say that he was home at the time of the Pixley train robbery. His penchant for breaking the law while drunk did not take the form of robbery or any other crime requiring daring and nerve. He was arrested once for selling another man's cattle and on another occasion for petty pilferings, but the fact that he was temporarily insane enabled him to escape punishment.

He was more than once committed to the insane asylum, and he was taken from the Napa insane asylum to San Francisco and shipped on the Northern Light in the hope that an enforced absence from liquor and a diet of salt beef, hard tack and bilge water would make a man of him.

His story that a Fresno insurance man was the leader of the gang is laughed at. Nobody believes that any Fresno insurance man has nerve enough to stop a train. If cheek could do it—but that's another story.

FELL IN A FIT.

A Case Where a Policeman Acted as a Good Samaritan.

Policeman Smith saw a man acting very strangely on Mariposa street yesterday and drew near to investigate. As soon as the unfortunate person caught sight of the stern countenance of the officer of the law his mouth twitched convulsively, the whites of his eyes turned up and he fell to the sidewalk in a fit, cutting a big gash in his head. Mr. Smith took the injured man to a physician, who dressed the wound, after which Mr. Smith put the stranger to bed and paid for his lodging.

The man got up about 11 o'clock, went out into the street again, had another fit and cut open the wound in his scalp against the curb. Mr. Smith still acted the Good Samaritan and ordered an express wagon in which the stranger, whose name could not be learned, was taken to the hospital.

THE STORM KING

BREAKS LOOSE AGAIN IN KANSAS AND MISSOURI,

Destroying a Vast Amount of Property and Killing Several People.

KANSAS CITY, April 4.—A storm of great intensity prevailed last night in Kansas and western Missouri. Telegraph wires, which were only partially restored, were again laid to the ground and advices are meagre. So far as is known they are as follows:

At Cherryvale, Kan., six houses were destroyed and two people killed.

At Burlington 100 houses had windows broken by the hail, and much damage done to fruit trees and crops. Hail stones are said to have been eight inches in circumference.

There was a similar storm Emporia, and much damage.

At Fort Scott many roofs were blown away, stables demolished and outhouses blown down. Several people were painfully injured, but no loss of life.

At Godard nearly every window in the town was smashed, and crops in the surrounding country greatly damaged.

At Bosworth six houses were demolished in the path of the storm.

The storm, besides being similar to a tornado, was accompanied by a water spout which flooded all creeks. Roads are inundated and fields for miles are under water. Crops are entirely washed out and farmers will be obliged to replant.

Reports from all over Kansas report the prevalence of a gale and grave accounts of damage which, however, are confined to the leveling of dwellings, broken windows and signs and wrecked roofs.

In this city the wind blew almost a hurricane during the entire afternoon and schools were dismissed, but there was no cyclone and the damage was slight.

A PAVILION AT POLLASKY.

It Will Be Opened on the 21st by the Local Guards.

On the 21st of this month companies C and F, N.G.C., will give a military picnic at the town of Pollasky. The guards completed the negotiations having this object in view yesterday, and the excursion will take place entirely under their auspices.

In anticipation of the occasion Major Pollasky determined to have erected in the town bearing his name a large and handsome pavilion. The papers were signed by him, the architect and the contractor yesterday, and a condition is that the building be completed not later than the 20th instant.

J. M. Saffell is the architect and A. Grant the contractor. The pavilion will contain a dance hall, band stand, refreshment room, candy stand and kitchen. The cost will be $2500, and the pavilion will be the handsomest in the interior.

The military picnic will also be the occasion of the formal opening of the pavilion to the public. Immediately after the arrival of the trains at Pollasky the troops will be reviewed by General Muller and staff. After lunch there will be fought a sham battle among the rocks and gullies in the hills. There will be dancing during the day, in the evening, and as far into the night as the skippers of the light fantastic and heavy grotesque can stand it. The boys hope to clear enough to nearly pay off their present indebtedness. It will be an opportunity for a day's healthy enjoyment of which many no doubt will avail themselves.

ROSS AN IMPOSTER.

Foley the Pugilist Keeps a Hotel in Sydney.

It has been learned that the man who was arrested the other day under the name of Thomas Ross for embezzling Willis Abbey's gold watch, and who pretended to be Foley, the Australian prize fighter, is not Foley, and is not even a prize fighter.

A gentleman who recently arrived from the land of the bounding kangaroo and the burrowing rabbit, and who was well acquainted with Lawrence Foley the prize fighter, says that Ross, alias Foley, is an imposter and does not bear the slightest resemblance either personally or morally to the Australian pugilist.

Lawrence Foley is about five feet ten inches tall and compactly built, with deeply set large eyes and jet black, wavy hair. He is also a sober man, and has for years conducted a hotel in Sydney where he is making considerable money. He associates only with wealthy men and high toned sports.

Australians do not battledore and shuttlecock with the letter "h" as Ross is in the habit of doing. He is probably a 5-bob slugger from some London variety dive.

PUBLIC attention on this coast is now pretty equally divided between the cake walk and politics.

WISE men still continue to differ about the holdover senators. The supreme court will probably be called on to take a whack at the question.

NOTWITHSTANDING all the fuss and fury the Oakland improvement bonds were defeated by a large majority, and peace again reigns in that usually quiet and respectable suburban village.

AS THE details of death and suffering caused by the late storms in the east come in, the people of California can more and more appreciate the blessing of living out of the pathway of these frightful calamities.

HENRY MILLER, once a butcher boy, is now the wealthiest land owner in the San Joaquin valley. He made his money by giving full weight.—Los Angeles Express.

And charging porterhouse and tenderloin prices for round and ribs.

FLANNAGAN, the pro-Triangle contributor to the Expositor, is putting forth his best efforts to prove that the paper in which his effusions appear has maliciously slandered that notorious political combination. It may be said, however, that he is making little headway, notwithstanding the painful silence of that paper on questions that it once discussed freely in its editorial columns.

AN Ohio member of the late editorial excursion has been reporting quite fully the details of that triumphal tour of journalists, and says in a recently published letter in a local paper of his town that at the reception tendered the excursionists at Sacramento Mrs. Leslie rendered "in fine form and full voice," a poem by a California gentleman named Miller. And this is fame! Our Joaquin, the poet of the Sierras, is a gentleman by the name of Miller, or Jones, or something. No one will now question the poet's propriety in having his hair cut and retiring to the sequestered village of Oakland.

DEATH TO THE WOOL INDUSTRY

Ex President Cleveland made a Democratic speech at Providence, R. I., last Saturday night, the bulk of which was in explanation of the Democratic free trade hobby, and in the course of which he said:

"The demand in your platform for free raw material ought, it seems to me, to be warmly seconded by the citizens of your state. The manufacturer, who sees in free raw materials a reduced cost of his products, resulting in an increased consumption and an extension of his markets, and a constant activity and return for his invested capital, can hardly trust the party which first resisted any reform in the tariff, then juggled with it and at last flatly refused him the relief he still needs."

Mr. Cleveland but echoes the sentiment of the majority of Democratic politicians of the United States when he favors free trade in wool and other raw materials, which is a matter that seriously affects the business of wool growing in Fresno county as well as elsewhere. Under the Democratic program wool from Australia and other foreign countries will be admitted free of duty to compete with home fleeces.

How this is going to help the American laborer and producer it is hard to understand. Every wool grower in the country knows that it means ruin for him. Democratic orators argue that free wool will increase the number of woolen mills and thus give employment and better wages to more people, but so far as wages are concerned this is a self-evident fallacy.

The first effect of free wool legislation would be to lower the price of American wool. This cannot be denied. Its price is already so low that sheep raisers can barely earn more than a livelihood and if the price is still further reduced thousands of sheep men will be forced out of business.

Australian wool is superior in quality, and is grown more cheaply in Australia than in America. Even with the ship freights added it can be laid down in San Francisco more cheaply than wool from Fresno county, if the tariff is removed. The Republican tariff is the only thing that has stood between the wool industry and destruction.

There is not a wool man in the county, Democrat, Republican, Farmers' Alliance or Prohibitionist, who does not know this to be a fact.

The cheapening of American wool might give a temporary impetus to manufacturing, but when the wool growing industry has been destroyed in this country, as it surely will be if put in open competition with foreign countries, will not the final result be to increase the price of that foreign raw material to a point equal to that now paid under the tariff? An industry once destroyed is not quickly resurrected, and in the interval of nonproduction of wool in the United States the foreign growers would have all the advantages of a free market with no compensating advantages to this country. The wage earner will evidently decline to admit the wisdom of legislation that will destroy a home industry and bring to him no permanent advantage.

The law would be for the temporary benefit of the manufacturing trusts and combines and against the interest of wool growers all over the country.

The Democratic wool grower who casts his ballot this year for a Democratic President will cast it for his own destruction. It is also eminently fitting that here in California the Australian ballot should be used to keep out the competition of Australian wool.

FIREMEN IN POLITICS.

The San Francisco fire commissioners at their meeting last Saturday passed the following resolution which, after considerable debate, was adopted:

"No officer, member or employe of this department shall belong to any club or political organization having primary politics for its object, nor shall they take part in any primary elections held in this city and county except to exercise their individual suffrage."

The fact that the resolution was introduced by Maurice Schmitt, one of the most notorious primary election manipulators in the city of bosses, is significant as showing the force of well directed public opinion. The fire department of San Francisco has always been a potent lever in municipal primary election politics, but public opinion has become so pronounced in opposition to this corrupt use of the fire department that even the bosses were obliged to succumb to the inevitable.

This is a lesson which the Triangle of Fresno would do well to study. In San Francisco outraged public opinion has forced the fire commissioners to restrain the fire department from engaging in dirty political work. In Fresno the trustees of the city are endeavoring to make a political machine of the city's fire department.

Is it possible that Fresno will go to lower depths of political degradation than can be tolerated in San Francisco, a city which is notorious for its criminal politics?

A MANLY PLEA.

M. H. De Young Stands Up for the Settlers.

THE RAILROAD REBUKED

Some Hard Blows Dealt at the Monopoly in the Interest of the People.

Some time ago it was generally reported in San Francisco that M. H. de Young, proprietor of the Chronicle, had secured the support of Collis P. Huntington in his aspirations for the United States senatorship. Mr. DeYoung did not make any denial of the report until yesterday, and his denial is one of the neatest, most unique and most convincing of any in the annals of journalism.

The denial takes the shape of an outspoken opinion on behalf of the West Side Settlers, upon whose homes the Southern Pacific company has made a piratical onslaught. If Mr. De Young ever expected anything in the way of political assistance from Mr. Huntington or the Southern Pacific company, he would never have allowed the following truthful and manly statement to appear in his paper:

"The plaintiff in the case bases its right of action on the land grant to the Southern Pacific railroad company July 27, 1866, claiming title as the successor in interest of that company. One of the allegations of the complaint is that the railroad company has since July 27, 1866, persistently, diligently and continuously sought to secure a patent to the lands due it under the grant of that date, but has been delayed, hindered and embarassed in procuring said patents by the interior department and the President. This allegation will be received with some incredulity by those who have studied the history of railroad grants in California.

"The suits are, in many respects, a repetition of the Mussel Slough cases of some years ago. For a number of years the country from White's Bridge to Huron has been settled and occupied by poor and industrious farmers under the land laws of the United States, and the government has issued its patents to them after compliance with the regulations of the land department. The Southern Pacific company has taken no action until the lands have been made valuable by the labor of the patentees, and now seeks to deprive them not only of the land, but of the fruits of their toil, on the strength of a grant made in 1866, and which has never been complied with until recently.

"The defendants in the case are required to answer the complaint in Los Angeles today, which will be an impossibility for many of them. The subpoenas were issued on March 3d, but not served until three weeks later, which looks very much like trying to obtain snap judgment.

"It is of vital importance to those defendants that they be represented in the circuit court, as otherwise default will be entered against them. It is to be hoped they have understood the case sufficiently to employ counsel to represent them, for otherwise they will find a decree rendered against them at once.

"The company plaintiff claims to feel very sure of the justice of its cause, but the way in which the subpoenas have been served does not indicate it. It is said, too, that every settler on these lands has been notified that the railroad company disputed the right of the United States to grant them patents. However the facts may stand the cases should not be allowed to go by default, for there are certainly rights on the part of the defendants which should be adjudicated.

"The railroad company had better be careful how it tries to enforce claims which are without equity, however they may stand in a legal aspect, lest it incur as much odium as in the Mussel Slough cases, and the result be as tragic as it was there. Settlers in good faith and patentees of the United States will not tamely surrender holdings to a corporation which has never kept the spirit of its agreement with the government, whatever it may have done as regards the letter."

AFTER GRATTAN DALTON.

The Visalia Sheriff and Posse Sent on a Fruitless Errand.

News was brought to Visalia last Saturday from Stokes valley, some twenty miles away, that Grattan Dalton had been seen there, and on Sunday the sheriff and a posse all heavily armed, intensely reticent and looking unutterable things, left Visalia to capture him. Nobody in town knew their errand, but everyone suspected that it was another untamed goose chase after Grattan Dalton, the suspected train robber.

The posse came back yesterday morning in a very much wearied and demoralized condition and told a harrowing tale of their sufferings and disappointment. They were told that Dalton was in a cabin on the top of a mountain, and after climbing the steep slope spent two hours maneuvering to surround the cabin and waiting for daylight with knees knocking together and teeth chattering with the cold.

If Dalton were as big as the courthouse and had made his appearance the best shot among them could not have sent a bullet within forty yards of him, their nerves were so shaky and their muscles so stiffened and chilled.

Finally when day broke they saw a man come out of the cabin, but he was not Dalton and did not bear the slightest resemblance to him.

THE SUPERVISORS.

They Count Coyote Scalps—There Were 415 of Them.

The board of supervisors met yesterday—rather three of them did. Supervisors Letcher, Meyer and Butler adjourned to the engine house where they counted coyote scalps. It took them the greater part of the afternoon to count them and compare the claims. There were 415 scalps, for which the state will have to pay $2075.

The experts who were appointed by the board to examine the books of the county officials were ready with their report, and axious to submit it. For some reason the board postponed the matter until this morning, though there was plenty of time to receive it yesterday afternoon. Part of the report appeared in The Republican recently.

VERDICT FOR THE PLAINTIFF

A Jury Awards George A. Noble $9000.

The jury in the case of George A. Noble against J. E. Hughes brought in a verdict for $9000 for the plaintiff last evening.

Noble traded his place some miles from Fresno to Hughes for a tract of land in Lake county, on which are the well known Highland springs and a hotel.

After a year and a half Noble got tired of his bargain and wanted to reconvey the springs for his old place. This the defendant would not do. Noble thereupon brought suit asking the court to annul the deed he gave Hughes, or if such action could not restore the land, that he receive judgment for such sum of money as damages as the court might deem just and equitable.

Fred Stoll, the Reedley constable, was in Fresno yesterday.

EMMA JUCH.

The Favorite Prima Donna to Appear in Fresno.

The celebrated Emma Juch Grand Opera company will be seen at the Barton opera house next Friday night, on which occasion George Bizet's romantic opera in four acts, "Carmen," will be presented, with Miss Juch in the title role, and in which she is said to have no equal. The company played in Los Angeles week before last and so successful was the engagement that the management insisted upon a return date, which Director Locke consented to give them. The return engagement there began last night. Miss Juch will sing "Carmen" in Santa Barbara Thursday night and will leave for Fresno immediately after the performance arriving here by special train Friday noon. The special consists of three baggage cars, one day coach and two sleepers. It is asserted that the supporting company which surround the fair young singer this season is the strongest she has ever had. They are: Sopranos, Emma Juch, Helen Parepa, Sofia Romani, Kate Maddok; contraltos, Gertrude May Stein, Angelina Casati, Lina Goettich; tenors, Fernando Michelena, William Stephens, Martin Pache, George Gould, John E. Belton; baritones, William Mertens, Herman Kaminski; basses, Joseph Rubo, John Moor, S. H. Dudley, Joseph Witt.

The same excellent orchestra and chorus of last season's fame is still retained. The orchestra this year is under the baton of Jose Van Den Berg, a young European conductor of marked ability.

The mise-en-scene used in the production of "Carmen" was constructed in the work shop of the Emma Grand Opera company under the personal supervision of Charles E. Locke.

The sale of seats begins tomorrow morning at the box office; the prices for this engagement have been arranged as follows: Parquet and first nine rows parquet circle $1.50, other rows parquet circle $1, balcony, first three rows $1, next four rows 75 cents, last four rows 50 cents, gallery 25 cents.

JUSTICE CRICHTON

WASHES HIS HANDS OF THE QUIMBY HALL AFFAIR.

He Ignores the First Ward Club and Calls Another Meeting of Democrats.

The Democrats of the First ward will make another effort this evening to organize a club without the interference of the Fourth and Fifth ward bulldozers, as the following call will show:

A meeting of the Democrats of the First ward will be held in the college building on the corner of N and Mariposa streets on Tuesday evening, April 5, 1892, at 7.30 sharp. I take the liberty of requesting very earnestly every Democrat of the First ward to be present, as business of very great importance will be transacted.

None but Democrats of the First ward will be allowed to vote on any proposition that may come up.

W. D. Crichton, Chairman.

This is an unintentional boomerang on the weekly organ of the Triangle. It vehemently asserted the other day that the meeting of the First ward club at Quimby's hall was composed of respectable Democrats of the ward, that none but residents of the ward voted at the meeting and that no outsiders took any part therein.

It asserted also, with an equal disregard for the facts, that Justice Crichton was proud of the honor of having been elected president of the club, and that he had nailed his colors to the most and would die fighting.

The foregoing notice would imply that Mr. Crichton prefers to be alive and kicking. In that notice he has carefully avoided any mention of the word "club." The call is merely for a meeting of Democrats of the First ward—not of the First ward club, and in the paragraph, "None but Democrats of the First ward will be allowed to vote on any proposition that may come up," the word "club" is also purposely omitted. The fact that the statement is made shows that there was urgent necessity for it. Finally the signature is "W. D. Crichton, chairman" not "W. D. Crichton, president" the position to which he was elected in the alleged First ward club by the Fahey-Lovison political manipulators.

It is evident that Justice Crichton desires to purify himself from the contamination of evil association and that he does not believe it to be an honor to be president of a bogus club with a stuffed roll.

NEW SCHOOL DISTRICTS.

Petitions for the Establishment of Three New Ones Received.

Petitions for new school districts are still coming in. The latest are for a school at Poliasky, one at Dos Palos and one at Pine Grove. It is not very likely that the supervisors will act upon these petitions this term.

The general law gives until May 10th to organize new districts, but the board has a rule that such matters must come on at the February meeting. They have in some instances suspended this rule to take action at other times.

TO GET NO DAMAGES

The Milling Company Loses Again.

JUDGE HARRIS' DECISION

The Fresno Canal and Irrigation Company in Luck.

Judge Harris yesterday decided the case of the Fresno Milling company against the Fresno Canal and Irrigation company in favor of the defendant, with costs. The relief sought and prayed for the decision states to be as follows:

"First, that a certain contract in writing, entered into by M. J. Church, the Fresno Canal and Irrigation company, and the Fresno Milling company, dated April 22, 1886, be cancelled, and that the defendant, the canal company, be enjoined from using the same, or asserting any right thereunder.

"Second, that the defendant, the canal company, be required to furnish a deed in fee simple to the plaintiff, to 83⅓ cubic feet of water passing a given point per second.

"Third, that the defendant be required to pay said plaintiff damages for said canal company's failure and neglect to furnish certain water agreed to be furnished to plaintiff, or the value of certain rents and profits of certain water alleged to have been used by defendant, which plaintiff alleges rightfully belongs to the plaintiff, the milling company."

The court does not find that the contract dated April 22, 1886, was obtained by fraud, as alleged by the plaintiff, but is of the opinion that the terms of the contract were thoroughly understood by the plaintiff when it was entered into. Under a prior contract, dated September 10, 1885, plaintiff claimed to be entitled to deed in fee simple to 83⅓ cubic feet of water, to be used by the plaintiff in any manner he saw fit.

The contention of the defendant was that the second deed was not obtained by fraud. It was intended to take the place of the prior one, and by its terms the plaintiff was to have no right to the water except as a motive power to the mill.

The decision makes a point of the fact that for several years after the contract had been entered into the plaintiff laid no claim to the water after it had passed the mill, but permitted the defendant to use it.

Reference is then made to the expert testimony relating to the quantity of water furnished by the defendant to the milling company. The plaintiff's expert testified that the amount was only 70.79 cubic feet per second, while the defendant put on two experts to prove that the milling company had, in fact, received a much larger quantity of water than provided for in the contract; namely, 110 cubic feet. Also, that the capacity of the milling company's wheel was only 71.01 cubic feet and, therefore, even if the canal company had failed to furnish plaintiff with 83⅓ cubic feet plaintiff could not claim to be damaged, for the wheel could not have carried off the amount required by the contract. The court holds that the preponderance of expert testimony was in favor of the defendant.

The decision also states that while the defendant agreed to enlarge the canal below the mill in order the better to carry off the water, there was no agreement to increase the fall at the mill, at which place it amounted to between 13 and 10 feet, and which would have entailed a great expense.

A former judgment against the defendant in another case, enjoining it from maintaining said canal, which the defendant pleads in its behalf, is acknowledged by the decision to be of force so long as said judgment holds good.

FRANCES A. HEATON.

Services Over the Remains of a Pure and Good Woman.

The funeral services of Mrs. Frances A. Heaton, wife of T. L. Heaton of the high school, took place yesterday at the late residence of the deceased on the corner of K and Ventura streets. At the request of friends the services were of the simplest character.

There were many beautiful floral tributes from teachers and pupils, a large concourse of whom, together with the members of the board of education, followed the remains to the cemetery.

The deceased was born in Chatauqua county, N. Y., and graduated from the New York State Normal school. She afterwards graduated from the Ann Arbor university in Michigan, where she took the four years' course in mathematics in three years. At this university she was considered one of the brightest pupils.

Here she met Professor Heaton, and after they were married they taught school in Minnesota. She afterwards taught English in Field's seminary and was regarded as the best teacher of English that the seminary ever had.

Shortly after her arrival with her husband in Fresno she was elected a teacher in the high school, but ill health obliged her to resign. Mrs. Heaton had a marvelous faculty of making friends. She loved children and all the pupils with whom she was ever brought in contact loved and esteemed her.

Miss Marian Stebbins, sister of the deceased, is one of the teachers in the high school of this city. All the schools were closed yesterday out of respect to the memory of the deceased.

The fresh sweet balm of springtime's smile
Fell on the sleeping earth,
Opening the eyes of new-born flowers,
Filling the brooks with mirth,
Tempting the lambkin from its fold,
Soft'ning the dove's low coo,
Bursting buds into creamy stars
O'er weighted with sparkling dew.
Across the slope of soft-turned earth
The poppies drop their gold;
The timid cream-cup sends its thrill
Thro' April-showered mold;
Below, the stream its silver traced
Thro' meadows broad and grand,
The graceful reeds, like sentinels,
Bow at the wind's command.
The tender boughs of the willow
Far down the valley's breast
As fringed curtains, shelter, safe
The young bird in its nest.
And high o'er all, like ancient god,
Its brow serene and bare,
The snow-peaked Whitney lifts its head
With calm, approving air.

Amid these scenes so subtly fair
A lone bird, startled, flies
With upturned head and treble sweet
Toward the crimsoning skies.
A hand had touched the fragrant bough
On which it stopped to rest
To pluck therefrom a snowy bloom
That drooped its fragrant crest.
The hand, a tiny, dimpled thing,
With dainty touch and light,
A moment poised the perfumed bud
Then laid it out of sight
Within a frame of clinging ferns
In outline of a cross
The one word "Rest" in violets blue
Soft gleaming from the moss.
"My bud shall lie upon her breast,
My bud so creamy white,
And whisper, with its perfumed breath,
Of joy, and peace, and light."
Into a room where loving hands
The harsh light soft had made
A group of little children passed
And on a coffin laid
Light wreaths of flowers, white and pure,
Fresh as their youth's sweet day,
Then bowed and left the hallowed spot
As softly stole away
Till on the highway, once again,
Where nature beamed with life,
They spoke in childish whispers
Of "death" which endeth strife,
So cruel, yet withal so kind,
It takes and leaves no trace
Save in the shadowy semblance
Of the much beloved face.
They said: "How still and grand she lay
Amid the flowers sweet,
With roses near her silvery hair
And at her dainty feet;
So pure, so peaceful, that it seemed
She there and then must rise
And float like angel blessed
Far up beyond the skies!"
Slowly on that spring day the train
Of mourning hearts moved by
The gates of that silent city
Where His first chosen lie;
In the [illegible] of golden sunshine
With the flower upon her breast
They laid her to sleep so gently,
The sleep—eternal rest.
And he, the sad-eyed mourner, stood
The last clod softly fell:
On his heart so palsied and shattered
It seared its lasting knell
Till a small voice woke within him,
So hopeful, strengthening, still,
That stooping low, with fervent faith,
He whispered: "Thine, the will."
And from his soul a prayer went up,
A tear bedewed the sod,
"Thy will, not mine, be done, O Lord:
I pass beneath Thy rod!"

PREPARING DRIED FRUIT

THE PRACTICE OF BLEACHING IT CENSURED.

It Cannot Be Done But at the Expense of the Quality of the Fruit.

The following article, taken from the San Francisco Herald of Trade, will attract much attention from the fruit men of the state and undoubtedly cause a good deal of discussion. Its point seems to be well taken. The Herald of Trade says:

"The press of this state, in fact of the whole country, may lay the fruit growing industry and the trade in dried and canned fruits under everlasting obligation by cultivating a demand for fruits as nearly as possible in the natural state. It has been shown in the reports from our government agricultural stations that almost any preparation of fruits which compasses so radical a change in outside appearance as is brought about by bleaching is accomplished at the expense of food qualities, not to say anything as to the healthfulness of the artificially light colored fruit.

"The taste for the very light colored dried fruits is stigmatized as a foolish fad. It will have its day probably, but it could be made a very short day if the newspapers would take up and expose the fallacy of the policy of buying dried fruits from external appearance. It may be admitted that to some people the fruit in the natural state does not present the attractive appearance which it bears after the bleaching process, but to the man who knows that all the fruit juices are stored up in the dark colored fruit in the natural state, no such inducement as finer outside appearance would have any weight.

"Bleaching is an expensive process and necessitates the use of fine packages in securing an advantageous display of the goods. The fruit in the natural state is appropriately packed in clean, white cotton sacks. There is a saving all around in fruit in the natural state.

"The first and most important saving is effected in the fruit itself. The saving of the fruit juices, for the loss of which nothing in improved appearance can compensate, is saving sufficient to warrant the abandonment of the bleaching processes. The saving in cost of package is another significant item. The advantage in the larger possible distribution of our dried fruits at the lower prices permissible for fruit in the natural state is an insurmountable advantage.

"We think the press should feel a local, patriotic pride in this matter of breaking down a foolish fad and encouraging a wider demand for a good, wholesome, health giving California product."

DEATH [illegible] BAD AIR.

A Case That Demands an Immediate Investigation.

The death of a child last Sunday has been the means of bringing to light something which would not be thought possible in as roomy a place as Fresno.

The parents live in a room in the back part of a store about two doors east of the alley running north from Mariposa street, between H and I streets. The room is about 10x12 feet with a 12 foot ceiling, and contains 1.440 cubic feet of air, a quantity not quite sufficient for three persons. At night the iron door leading to the back yard is closed as is also the door proper. The door leading into the store is closed also, and as the building is of brick and the room does not contain any windows no fresh air can enter.

In this cramped, unwholesome atmosphere slept the proprietor and his wife, his brother and his wife and three children, seven persons in all.

Some physicians to whom the matter was mentioned said yesterday that it was a wonder that all the children did not die, and that there could be but very little doubt that the child came to its death from breathing the impure air of the closed room.

The parties are Russian Jews and have no excuse for living in such a pauperized manner, it being reported that the proprietor is worth $8000 or $10,000.

This is a matter which the health officer should look into. Ordinance No. 228 effectually covers such cases as the one mentioned. Among the powers and duties of the board defined in section 9 are "to enter upon the premises to examine into their condition and when satisfied that the apartments used for lodgings or other purposes are liable FROM OVER CROWDING or filth" to become dangerous to public health," etc., "said board may proceed to abate such nuisance."

REMOVING EVERGREENS.

Successful Transplanting of Pines, Hemlocks and Arbor Vitæ from the Woods.

Among the various kinds of work which may be performed during the comparative leisure of winter is the removal of evergreens from the borders of woods and wild groves. The Country Gentleman says:

We have transplanted large numbers of white pines, hemlocks and arbor vitæ of various heights, from two feet to twelve feet, in the depth of winter, without losing one in ten. Two neighbors drove ten miles in mild weather for trees of the white pine to flank their dooryards and shelter their cattle grounds. The ground was slightly frozen beneath the snow. One of them brought twelve and the other fifty, the trees averaging five feet in height. The first mentioned man saved all and they grew well; the other lost forty-nine out of his fifty. One took special care to lift a heavy ball or cake of earth with the roots; the other tore the roots out by main force, with no soil on them.

WHITE PINE UNDERGOING REMOVAL.

The same treatment applied to young hemlocks and to trees of arbor vitæ gave a like result. The ball of earth must be large and heavy enough to hold the tree upright when set on the surface of the ground. The best locality is always along the borders of swamps, where a flat cake of earth is easily secured, the roots spreading out horizontally in a dense network and holding the soil, as in the cut showing a tree ten feet high. On hard upland smaller trees must be taken, as the roots run deeper, and a rounder ball of earth is necessary. Trees thus brought to the ground where they are wanted to remain have been set down on the surface of the ground and suffered to remain till the ground thawed in the spring without any detriment. It must be observed that this method applies only to trees in the borders of woods and swamps. Those raised in nurseries, where they have been several times transplanted, do not require all this care.

Safer at Home.

Some men are naturally of an adventurous turn. They love the sight of new things and enjoy a spice of danger. Others seem to be born stay-at-homes. If they venture now and then into the world they are glad to get back again into their safe little corner. Here is an amusing story of an aged couple of this class who had gone to Chicago to see the sights.

They stopped upon the southern end of the drawbridge at Dearborn street and were admiring a steam tug which was just then snorting up the dirty Chicago river. They did not notice a schooner coming up behind them, and when the warning bell of the bridge tender rang it might have been an old fashioned summons to dinner, so far as they were concerned.

A moment later the bridge was under full swing. A startled look flashed from the old man's eyes, while his wife scarcely repressed a scream. They clung to the railing, the bridge swung slowly in behind the vessels and came to place, leaving the old couple on the north side of the river.

"Well, I vum!" exclaimed the man.

"Don't that beat everything?" said the woman.

"'Mandy"—and the old man's voice was full of suppressed excitement—"'Mandy, we've just fell down seven stories in that elevatin thing down at the tavern, and now we've been slung right across this here river. 'Pears you can't trust your foot anywhere. The fust thing you know we shall git onto somethin that'll telegraph us right out of Chicago. We'd better go home."

And they did by the next train.—Chicago Mail.

No Hope There.

Mr. De Seiner (on being introduced to Adored One's Mother)—Pardon me, madam, but have we not met before? Your face seems strangely familiar.

Adored One's Mother—Yes; I am the woman who stood up before you for fourteen blocks in a street car the other day, while you sat reading a paper.—New York Weekly.

NO Impurities in Royal Baking Powder.

It is the only baking powder yet found by chemical analysis to be free from all impurities and absolutely pure. This perfect purity results from the exclusive use of cream of tartar specially refined and prepared by patent processes which totally remove all the tartrate of lime. The cost of this chemically pure cream of tartar is much greater than any other, and it is used in no baking powder except the "Royal."

Dr. Edward G. Love, formerly analytical chemist for the U. S. Government, who made the analyses for the New York State Board of Health in their investigation of baking powders, says of the purity and wholesomeness of the "Royal":

"I find the Royal Baking Powder composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substance.

(Late U. S. Gov't Chemist) "E. G. LOVE, PH. D."

Prof. Love's tests, and the recent official tests by the United States and Canadian Governments, show the Royal Baking Powder to be superior to all others in strength and leavening power.

Rooting Cuttings.

An ordinary tumbler with some cotton batting at the bottom affords an admirable place in which to root cuttings when one is working in a small way and without the florists' conveniences, propagating bench, etc.

One who has tried this plan, writing to The Popular Gardening, says: "During April we received some choice tomato plants by mail, which were all broken up, so that only a few of the tips were in good shape. These inserted in cotton batting in a tumbler in the same way as geranium and coleus cuttings, etc., are shown in the illustration, and placed in the windows of the sitting room soon emitted healthy, fibrous root, although left entirely without attention, and no water was applied after the first thorough soaking given to the cotton batting. These plants were set into open ground directly after taken out of the tumbler, and were soon as large and thrifty plants as any that were grown from seedlings. It is wonderful how long cotton batting will remain moist after once being soaked full of water. Undoubtedly this method will be found useful by amateurs."

PERRIN COLONY No 4

Magnificent Body of Land Offered to Home Seekers.

Perrin colony No. 4 consists of 12,000 acres of land especially adapted for raisin, fruit and alfalfa, and is situated eight miles west of Fresno, adjoining the celebrated "Fruit Vale Estate." The San Pablo and Tulare extension of the Southern Pacific railroad crosses this land, and the town of McMullin is located in about the center of the tract.

This tract was selected some years ago by Dr. E. B. Perrin, out of a body of 200,000 acres, as being the best adapted for general vine, fruit and alfalfa culture on account of the abundant and luxuriant growth of natural grasses. These are the undisputed guarantees as to quality and fertility of the soils of this valley. A deeded water right goes with each twenty acre tract sold. The water right is from the Fresno Canal and Irrigation Co. (Church water), which runs the year round.

The land is level as any in the country and the vines on adjoining lands have made as fine growth as any in Fresno county. The town of McMullin, being located in the center of this magnificent tract and fourteen miles from Fresno, will in a few years be as large a town as Sanger or Selma.

This colony will be sold on easy terms and at a very low price when we consider that it will produce $100 per acre the third year after planting to vines. Vincent, Chittenden, Cole, Sharp & Gordon, dealers in real estate at Fresno, are are handling this tract. This firm makes a careful selection of lands before accepting them for sale. The firm's standing is such that every colony handled by its members has been a marked success.

KUTNER -:- COLONY

Situated one mile east of Temperance Colony. The soil is composed of No. 1 red soil and humus deposit, of which the Temperance Colony and vineyards east of Fresno are justly celebrated. This land is well sub-irrigated by waters from the well-known Church ditch and Gould canal. A water right deeded free with each 20-acre tract sold. Price $100 per acre. No payment on principal required for five years. Interest at 8 per cent per annum, payable annually in advance

PERRIN COLONY NO 2

This magnificent property is a portion of the CELEBRATED HELM TRACT, and is situated 3½ miles north of Fresno, on Blackstone Avenue, and contains 6000 acres of superior quality of red land and is pronounced by experts to be of the same character and equal to the soil of the Celebrated Gordon Raisin Vineyard and Richland Tract. The Richland Tract is situated 3 miles southeast of Fresno, and sold recently, without improvements, for $250 per acre. This land is irrigated by the Fresno Canal and Irrigation Company (Church water), and a water right will be deeded free with each 20-acre tract sold. The soil is unequaled for raisins, figs, olives, oranges, nuts and all kinds of deciduous fruits. This property will be offered at the low price of $75 per acre for a short time only; interest on deferred payments 8 per cent. Terms easy.

Prof. E. W. Hilgard says: "It is an excellent soil for raisin grapes.

THE ENTERPRISE COLONY

Situated eight miles northeast of Fresno, in the Fertile Dry Creek Basin. LEVEL SANDY LOAM AND RED SOIL. At an elevation of 100 feet above the City of Fresno, in the warm belt near the foothills, where there is less frost more rain, and where fruits ripen earlier than nearer the center of the valley. Splendid land and climate for raisin growing and all kinds of citrus and deciduous fruits, nurseries or the growing of small fruits. It is on the line of the Oakdale Branch the S. P. Railroad, for which rights of way have already been purchased.

CALEDONIA COLONY

THIS TRACT IS

Especially Adapted to Raisin Growing

And was selected for that purpose by its present owner, ALEX GORDON, proprietor of a magnificent vineyard adjoining this city. Terms as follow: Interest in advance; no payment on principal for five years. Both of these tracts are covered with water-right, guaranteeing water for irrigation to every purchaser.
